

Gilchrist Appoints New Chair to Its Jewish Hospice Advisory Board

Hunt Valley, Md., July 20, 2020

Gilchrist recently named Sherri Zaslow as chair of its Jewish Hospice Advisory Board. The board serves as advisors to the Gilchrist Jewish Hospice program and provides outreach and education to the Jewish community about serious illness and end-of-life care.

While Gilchrist provides care and support to anyone with a serious illness, its Jewish Hospice program focuses on care tailored to the customs, rituals and laws around which Jewish patients and their families have built meaningful and fulfilling lives. The program was created to provide care to the Jewish community, which is traditionally underserved through hospice.

The Gilchrist Jewish Hospice Advisory Board is comprised of community members and religious representatives who have a range of professional and personal experience with end-of-life care. They are knowledgeable about the needs of the Jewish community and dedicated to ensuring these needs are met when faced with serious illness.
